Employee Recognition

Captain Buddy Black

Captain Black recently completed the Police Chiefs Institute held at the North Carolina Justice Academy (NCJA). The courses presented covered a multitude of topics including Agency Accreditation, Leadership, Budgeting, Personnel & Public Records Laws, and other pertinent and timely topics. The institute was developed by the North Carolina Association of Chief of Police (NCACP) and is designed to enhance the professional development of law enforcement practitioners. With the aid of the NCACP's strong tradition of excellence in police education, training, and instruction, with this certificate of completion, Captain Black has better prepared himself, and the Kings Mountain Police Department to face the challenges and demands of law enforcement in today's society.

Outstanding Performance

Chris Graham

On Wednesday, October 2, 2024, a victim came into the pd to get a copy of a domestic violence report that she had filed. She wanted to let the person know that is over Chris Graham, who responded to the call, what an amazing job he did for her. She said that he was really helpful during her time of need and she was thankful for his help. She really spoke highly of him.
